Next Public Meeting for the Town of Sandy Creek’s Comprehensive Plan Scheduled for July 25

Sandy Creek, N.Y. – The Town of Sandy Creek is preparing a comprehensive plan to address changes in land use, population, development, and environmental resources. A comprehensive plan committee (CPC) comprised of residents, business owners, and other interested parties, has been formed to lead this public opinion driven process.

The CPC would like to invite residents, business owners, and landowners in the Town of Sandy Creek, Village of Sandy Creek, and Village of Lacona to attend the next meeting of the CPC. Mark your calendars and make plans to attend the following meeting:

Wednesday, July 25, 2007

7 to 9 PM

Sandy Creek Central School District Board Room
124 Salisbury Street, Sandy Creek, New York 13145

Members of the community will be asked to develop a list of goals and recommended actions to help guide future land use, development, and preservation decisions within the Town of Sandy Creek. A brief summary of the first two meetings, held in April and June will also be presented.

The Town of Sandy Creek Comprehensive Plan will represent a compilation of ideas and recommendations from the public. Therefore, it is essential that members of the community participate in the planning process. The plan will help guide future growth and development, while maintaining the unique character of the town. To help guide the planning process, the Central New York Regional Planning and Development Board (CNYRPDB) will serve as a consultant to the CPC.
